Assignment 1: Website Planning

Design Brief:

OneCityBlock is a professional cover band built for private parties, pubs/restaurants, and corporate events. The band specializes in covering pop and rock favorites from the 80s through today. The band thrives in a variety of environments- from providing upbeat background music during dining to high-energy sets for exciting a dance floor. The website introduces the band, has pictures/videos of previous performances, and makes it easy for someone to get a quote.

The business makes money through booking fees, which will be a base rate, and event bookings. Event booking pricing will be determined by the number of hours, travel distance, and if the venue has existing sound/lighting equipment. The business model will also include a small deposit to reduce last-minute cancellations and offset potential losses resulting from cancelled bookings. Success can be measured through number of bookings, average booking value, repeat customers, and the number of referrals for the band. Referrals can be tracked by adding an additional, optional section to the booking form.

The business goal of the site is to create authentic inquiries and convert them into bookings. Monetization occurs when a user submits a booking request, receives a quote, and reserves a date by paying the deposit. The small deposit will be credited towards the overall rate, provided the user doesn't cancel their booking. The ROI for the site is achieved through providing a simple, but informative experience through clear explanations of the rates, FAQs, examples of what the band plays, and testimonials from previous users. The site will answer common questions in hopes of helping the user achieve their goal of finding a band that sounds good and fits their event.

Users accessing this site could include party hosts, restaurant managers, or corporate planners. The site will be designed so these users will be able to easily find media, testimonials, and examples of previous events. Packages will be simple and descriptive, with no clutter or hidden fees. By making the booking experience clear, professional, and low stress, this site will leave users feeling fully informed and encourage them to choose OneCityBlock for their events.

Site navigation:

The site navigation will be located at the top of the page, so users can quickly navigate the site. The main page will be the “Home” page, which will give an overview of the band. There will be an “About Us” page to give information about the band, a “Media” page displaying photos and videos from previous venues, a “Setlist” page with examples of songs played by the band, a “Packages” page that explains the pricing and what’s included when a user books the band, a “Reviews and FAQs” page to display testimonials and questions from previous customers, and a “Book Us” page for users to inquire about booking the band for their event.
